INTRODUCTION.

THE following paper has as its first and chief aim to extend a little further the inquiry as to Chaucer's treatment of final -e. It is modelled closely on similar studies of the Troilus by Professor Kittredge, of Harvard, and of the Legend of Good Women by Professor Manly, of Chicago University, in the hope that the identity of form may add something to the value of them all.

In citing words from Old and Middle English in illustration of words and forms in the Hous of Fame, no attempt has been made to determine the dialect of Old English from which descent is to be traced, or to give a history of the changes which occurred between the Old English period and the time of Chaucer. The main object, as stated, has been to take some account of Chaucer's use of final -e.

The authorities for the Hous of Fame are few and very faulty. Almost any blunder might be attributed to the scribe who could perpetrate such monstrosities as hytte (= hyt), whatte (= what), frerre (= fer), etc. Numberless instances of wrongly written -e's could be cited; and at the end of the verse no little difficulty has been had in deciding in certain cases whether or not the -e is of value. In general I have preferred to follow the guidance of Willert, who has taken quite a step forward in the suppression of these seemingly idle -e's.

The present study is based on the Fairfax MS. 16, Bodleian Library, as being perhaps the best of the three; but careful comparison has been made with the other MSS., as well as with the editions of Caxton and Thynne. When the reading of another MS. than F is given, the fact is noted and the variants usually registered.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SIGNS.

Other contractions will be easily understood; such as n. (noun or neuter), impv. (imperative), pp. (perfect participle), etc. However, adj. means adjective, singular, attributive, unless post. or pred. is added; but when the adjective is invariable this distinction is not commonly made.

The following signs are used: -ē or -e = e pronounced; -e = e elided before a vowel or h; -e = e apocopated or syncopated, as well when due to the scribe's caprice as in words in which it is regularly or sometimes sounded; (-e) = e unsounded in rhyme; [] indicates an omission in the MS.; () marks something wrongly written within the verse; f (as in 2011 f) means in rhyme; ` marks the ictus; : expresses rhymes with; * denotes a line metrically imperfect which is not easily corrected by comparison of MSS.; || marks the cæsura.

The manuscripts are denoted as follows: F, Fairfax MS. 16, Bodleian Library; B, Bodley MS. 638, Bodleian Library; P, Pepys MS. 2006, Magdalén College, Cambridge; C, Caxton's edition, British Museum, about 1483; T, Thynne's edition, 1532.

stems with long stem-syllable, — ende; (ii.) neuter jo-(ja-) stems with long stem-syllable, — stele; (iii.) masculine i-stems with short stem-syllable, — hete, lyge, stede; (iv.) neuter i-stems with short stem-syllable, — spere; (v.) masculine u-stems with short stem-syllable, — sunu. Note. — Ten Brink's remark — “sone, wonē kommen im Vers nie als zweisilbig vor” (Spr. u. V., 261) — is contradicted by verse 218: Sylt that he hir sone was.

spere (A.S. spere, n., L. spere, sper, P. Pl. spere, sper), 1048 f (: were I pl. pt. ind.).

stede (A.S. stede, m., L. stude, O. stede, O. & N. stede, stude), 829 f (: dredē n.); stide, *827. — stede, 73I.

stele (A.S. stèle, style, L. stel), 683 f (: wele n.). But Willert prefers to conform the rhyme-word to the ordinary usage of stele, as is seen by his writing steel, weel. Skeat and Heath, on the other hand, retain -e. — stel(e), 1130 f (: euerydele).

§ 7. Exceptions to § 6.

The termination shippe (A. S. -sipe, m., jo-stem) occurs but once, and -e is unsounded. A. S. -ere, m., jo-stem, is seen in but one word; in this -e is dropped.

stele, see § 6.

The following list includes (i.) ā-(ō-) stems with short stem-syllable: faru, lufu, sagu, sceadu, scealu, sceamu, talu; (ii.) abstract nouns in -u, -o, corresponding to Gothic abstracts in ei and usually indeclinable in the singular: brædu, hælu, hætu; (iii.) feminine consonant-stem with short stem-syllable: hnutu.

brede A.S. brædu, L^a. bræde, L^b. brede, O. & N. brede), 1494 f (: rede z sg. pr. ind.); brede, 2042.

Note. — Four examples of final sounded -e within the verse are recorded; of these there can be no question as to but one:

Ther men of louë tdynges tolde; or, possibly,

Ther men of louë tdynges tolde, 2143.

note (A.S. hnutu; cf. O. N. hnot; P. Pl. wal-note), walsh note, 1281.

muse (A.S. mūs, P. Pl. mus), 785 f (: house n.). All authorities show -e here, and Wi., Sk. and He. retain it. It is quite probable, however, that we here have to do with one of the numberless idle -e's. The uniform usage of the rhyme word elsewhere strengthens this notion.

 And euery spechē that ys yspoken.

Rhyme words. — teche inf. (781, 1071), eche inf. (2066.).

syglite (A.S. gesilð, L^a. siht, nom., sehite, isihðe, sihjedē, dat., L^b. seht, nom., sihite, dat., O. sihhþe), 468 f (: highte 3 pl. pt. ind.); syght[e], 1016 f (: bryght adv.). But in the latter example all omit -e in both syght and the rhyme-word.

§ 10. Nouns in -yng, -yngē.

I. There is in H. F. no case of a noun in -yngē rhyming with an infinitive.

II. Here follow all cases in rhyme of nouns (including "gerunds") in -yngē. Where no note is added, the rhyme-word is another noun in -yngē.

askynge, 1700 f (: thinge n.). — blodeshedyngē(s), 1241 f. — clarionyngē(s), 1242 f. — enclynynge, 734, f (: thynge n.). — fleynge, 1523 f. — forswerynge, 153 f. — humblynge, 1039 f. — knowynge, 892 f (: thinge n.). — lesynge, 154 f. — murmurynge, 1524 f. — sterynge, 800 f (: goynge pres. part.). — thundringe, 1040 f.

§ 11. The following feminine nouns with long stem-syllables do not take -e in H.F. (cf. Child, § 17):

- (i.) ā-stems, — feoht; (ii.) i-stems, — miht, þrift, wiht, weorold; (iii.) consonant-stems, — bōc, niht.

For other feminine nouns which in H.F. sometimes or always lack final -e, cf. loue, § 8; blys, -nesse, quene, § 9; nouns in -yngē, § 10; and hond(e), § 13.
boke (A.S. bōc, L. O. boc), 1093; booke, 429; boke, 712; booke, 426; at another book(e), 656 f (: looke n. nom.).
fyght (A.S. feoht, fyht, L. feht, fæht, feiht, feoht, fiht, dat. fihte, fuhfte), 1241 (+ vowel). This example is of course not decisive.

myght (A.S. mi(e)ht, meaht, L. mihte, O. mihht, mihkte), 41 f, 49 f, 80 f, 528 f, 1091 f, 1693 f, 2023 f, 2146 f; myght (+ vowel), 971.

Rhyme words. — a-nyght (41), aryght (49, 80, 528, 2023), lyght n. (1091), bryght post. adj. voc. (1693), wight n. (2146).

nyght (A.S. ni(e)ht, neht, neahht; L. niht, O. nihht), 112 (+ cons.); a-nyght, 42 f (: myght n.); a nyghtē, 632; be nyght (+ vowel), 1953.

thrifte (O.N. þrift), 1847 (+ cons.); thrifte, 1786.

wight (A.S. wiht, wuht, wyht, f. and n., Sievers, § 267, n. 3; L. wiht, whit, O. wilht, P. Pl^b. wyght, P. Pl^c. wight, wiht, wiȝt), 1076 f, 2061 f, 2145 f; wyght, 1830 f; wight(e), 1626 f; before consonants, wight, 1808, 2043; wyght, 276, 1565; before h, wight, 1682, 1877.

Rhyme words. — ryght adv. (1076, 2061), lyghtē post. adj. sg. (1626), a ryght (1830), myght n. (2145).

world (A.S. woruld, W. S. weorold; L. weorlde, weoreld, weoruld, woreld, world, worlde, O. weorelld), 1932 (+ cons.); world hyt, 1525; worlde, 100, 1640, 1721, 1746, 2038; worlde, 906, 1674, 1770, 1807. In 1724 we have a harsh verse, but it can hardly be that we should read worlde: That through the worlde went[e] the soun.

§ 12. Apocope of A.S. -n in nouns is found in H. F. in the following words (cf. Child, § 15; ten Brink, §§ 203, 207).
 eve (A.S. æfen, ēfen, n. and m., L^a. æuen, L^b. heue, O. efenn), 876 f (: leve r sg. pr. subj.), 2106 f (: leve n.).
 game (A.S. gamen, gomen, n., L. gomen, gamen, game), 664 f, 822 f, 886 f, 1199 f, 1474 f; game, 1810.

Rhyme words.—Fame n. (664, 822, 1199, 1474), Iame pr. n. (886).
 morwe (A.S. morgen, margin, m., L. morzen, morze, morwe, P. Pl. morwe, morwen), morwē how, 225; morwē or, 2106.
 wyndmelle (A.S. wind + mylen, m.), 1280 f (: telle inf.).

§ 13. Hand (A.S. hond, fem. u-stem.).
 honde (A.S. hond, hand, f., L. hond, hand, dat. hande, honde, O. hand, wiþ hand, hande), on honde, 1009 f (: stonde
 3 pl. pr. ind.) ; in honde, 1877 f (: stonde r sg. pr. ind.) ;
 in hys honde, 171 f (: of the londe) ; with your ryght honde, 322 f (: bonde n. nom.) ; on my ryght hond(e), 1294 f (: fonde r sg. pt. ind.) ; hande hit, 741.

It will be observed that final -e is written in all the examples cited. Moreover, this -e uniformly appears in all other authorities save 171 (BPC). Certainly it is sounded in the phrases on honde, in honde, (1009, 1877), —the rhyme words evidence that. But it is clearly wrong when rhyming with fonde, r sg. pt. ind. (1294). Is it not probable then that -e is equally idle in 171, 322? Note the rhyme words. Wi., Sk. and He., however, all retain -e.

§ 14. The following masculine and neuter nouns which in Anglo-Saxon end in a consonant in the nominative, sometimes or always take an -e in one or more cases in H. F.:
 (i.) masculine o-stems,—circul, clūd, epistol, fær (fēr), -hād, hēap, heofon, hrafn, mūð, pin, slēp, weg; (ii.) neuter o-stems,—bond, cræt, fyr, gæt (geat), gēar (gēr), gōd, hūs, lif, lond, scip, swefen (swefni), tempel, wolcen; (iii.) neuter i-stems,—gefēr, (ge)wiht; (iv.) masculine consonant-stem,—fot.

The MSS. of the Hous of Fame are very imperfect, and in almost numberless cases final -e is written uniformly when it manifestly has no value. Scansion is a nearly infallible test of this when the word occurs within the verse, and at the end the rhyme-word frequently settles the matter with certainty. Disregarding then the cases in which -e can thus be proved idle, these words seem to have final -e mainly in certain “petrified phrases” (cf. Kluge in Paul’s Grundriss, I, 900). These are the phrases which have led to the belief that the regular ending of the dative in Chaucer is -e, whereas, as a matter of fact, the dative occurs much more commonly without -e than with it. It is in these idiomatic phrases that -e is sounded, — phrases which had probably come to be accepted and written without analysis and without conscious inflection (compare the modern acceptance of such expressions as a fire, alive, asleep). The dative ending was preserved in these idioms, but the force of the dative as such was no longer felt (cf. Kittredge and Manly, § 14). This is pretty certainly the explanation of final -e in the following phrases found in H. F. : for fere, a fire, a lyve, on lyve, on slepe, to yere. To these we may add with reasonable certainty to goode, on an hepe, and perhaps to shippe. With these we should include in fere, unless we take it that gefēr has been influenced by gefēra.

But no such explanation accounts for fote in half a fote, a fote brede of space; and the same remark holds for mouthe, pyne, both of which follow prepositions. In the case of bonde, -hede, house, londe, there is at least reasonable doubt whether -e should be pronounced. In cercle (A.S. circul) and temple (A.S. tempel) the -e is compensatory for the loss of an interior vowel. Compare also heuene (A.S. heofon), sweuene (A.S. swesen), wolkene (A.S. wolcen), in which it is hard to say whether the ultimate or the penultimate -e is sounded. For many examples of idle final -e in masculine and neuter nouns, see § 18, below.

bonde (A.S. band, n. (bande, pl., Pet. Chron.), Sweet, 254; but the regular A.S. form is bend, m. and f., see Sievers, § 266, n. 2; O. band), nom., 321 f (: with your ryght honde). But is -e sounded here? It is uniformly written, and Sk. and He. retain it. See, however, observation under honde, § 13.

bordē, see § 18.

carte (A.S. cræt, n., L. carte, O. karrte, P. Pl. cart-whel), Hym slowe and fer from the cart cast[e], 956. But PCT are more likely correct: Hym slowe and fro the cart [ë] cast[e]. — carte, nom., 944; carte, acc., 943.

cercle (A.S. circul, m., but influenced by O. F. cercle), nom., 815; sercle, nom., 791; a litel roundell as a sercle, 791 f (: couercle n.).

cloude (A.S. clūd, m., L. clude), acc., 978.

epistile (A.S. epistol, pistol, m.), acc., 379.

fere (A.S. gefēr, n., perhaps influenced by gefēra, m., or even confused with it; L. ifere, iueore), in fere, 250 f (: inanere n.).

fere (A.S. fær, fēr, m.), for fere, 604, 1042; in al hys fere, 174 f (: were 3 pl. pt. ind.) ; fere, acc., 607.

fire (A.S. fyr, n., L. fur, dat. fure, O. fir), a fire, 1858 f (: hire n.) ; fire, nom., 2078 ; be fire, 742 ; of fire, *1976.

fote (A.S. fōt, m., L. fot, dat. fote, O. fot, o fot, wiþf fote), half a foote, 1345 ; A fote brede of space, 2042. — barefote, 98.

goode (A.S. gōd, n., O. god, inn gode, forr gode), to goode, 1 f, 58 f (both: Roode n.) ; good(e), acc., 1714 f (: woode pred. adj. pl.), 1748 f (: for wode madly). — goode, acc., 1088 ; good (+ cons.), acc., 1566, 1998 ; good (+ vowel), 1628, 1795, 1975.

rounde, see § 18.

-hede (suffix, A.S. hād, m., L^b. child-hode, man-edē ; O. māzðenni-had, māzði-had ; P. Pl. maiden-hod, man-hede, man-hod, knyght-hod), godeleyhede, 330 f (: dede n.) ; godeleyhed(e), 273 f (: hede n. acc.). It is quite certain that -e is not pronounced in the latter example, and the same may be true of the first.

hepe (A.S. hēap, m., L. hæp, hep, dat. -e), on an hepe, 2148 f (: lepe inf.).

heuene (A.S. heofon, m., also L. W. S. heofone, f., Bright, s. v., L. heouene, heofne, O. heoffne, heffne), in heuene, 1008 f, 1254 f ; heuene, acc., 1375 f ; before consonants, (disyllabic), to the heuene, 164 ; to heuene, 591 ; of heuen, 1087 ; before vowels, to the heuene, 495 ; be-twexen heuene, 715 ; in heuen, 949 ; amyddys . . . heuēn, 846.

Rhyme words. — sevēne (1008, 1375), nevēne inf. (1254).

house (A.S. hūs, n., O. hus), to Fames house, 786 f (: of a Mouse). In this example the several authorities are a unit in showing -e, and Wi., Sk. and He. retain it. It seems quite probable, however, that this -e should not be sounded. — in al that hous that, 1064 ; this hous hath, 1945 ; vpon this hous tho, 1989 ; in this hous was, 2030 ; hous (+ vowel), 891, 1070, 1105, 1114, 1925, 1935, 1977, 1987, 2121 ; house 484, 655, 663, 821, 882, 1023 ; house, nom., 1942 ; house, acc., 1920 ; in fames house, 1027.

londe (A.S. land, lond, n., L. lond, dat. londe, O. land, P. Pl^a. lond, P. Pl^b. dat. londe), of the londe, 172 f (: in hys honde) ; withouten . . . lond(e), 485 f (: [of] sonde) ; ouer al thys londe, 348. But -e can hardly be sounded in the second example in rhyme, and it is doubtful if it should be in the first ; see remarks under honde, § 13, above.

lyve (A.S. lif, n., L. lif, on liue, bi life, bi liue, O. lif, dat. lif, life), on lyve, 1168 f, a lyve, 2055 f.

Rhyme word. — describe (discryve) inf.

lyf(e) acc., 176 f, 423 f, 457 f; lyfe, nom., 36; lyfe, acc., 258; lyfe, acc., 1414; phrases, al thy lyf(e) (acc. of time), 200 f; of lyf(e), 1963 f. In the foregoing examples FBT regularly show final -e, while PC lack it. Wi., Sk. and He. omit -e except in 1963. The justification for this distinction is not apparent.

Rhyme words. — wife n. (176, 200, 423, 457), stryfe n. (1963).

mouthe (A.S. mūð, O. muþ, A.R. muð, O. & N. muþ), Out of his trumpeſ mouthe smelde, 1685; Of euery Philosophres mouthe, 757 f (: kouthe adv.); to hys mouth(e) (BPC mouth), 1679 f (: southe adv.); fro mouthe to mouth(e) (BC mouth), 2076 f (: southe adv.). It can hardly be that -e is sounded in the last two examples.

pyne (A.S. pīn, m. (?), L. O. pine), with ful moche pyne, 147 f (: Labyne pr. n.); of the derke pyne, 1512 f (: Pros-erpyne pr. n.); with al[le] pyne he, 222.

Ravene (A.S. hræfn, hræm, m.), acc., 1004.

shippe (A.S. scip, n., L. scip, schip, dat. schipe, P.Pl. ship, schup), to shippe, 420.

slepe (A.S. slēp, m., L^a. on sleape, L^b. a-slepe, O. slæp, o slæpe), on slepe, 114; the god of slepe, 69; to slepe, 112. sothe, see § 18.

swevene (A.S. swefen, swefn, n., L^a. sweven, sweoven, dat. swefne, L^b. sweven, dat. swewe, P.Pl. swene), 9 f (: evene adv.); sweuene, acc., 79.

temple (A.S. tempel n.), 469, 1858; temple, 1844.

tovne, see § 18.

welkene (A.S. wolcen, wolcn, n., pl. wolcnu, Pet. Chron. se wolcne, L. weolcne, wolcne, P.Pl. walkene, welkne, P.Pl. wolkene), in alle the welkene (or welkene), 1601.

weye (A.S. weg, m., L^a. wæi, wai, wei, weie, L^b. wai, way; dat. L^a. waie, waize, etc., L^b. weie, waye, O. wezze), of the wey[e], 714 f (: sey inf.); but C alone shows -e. — wey(e), acc., 937 f (: parfeye); all the wey, 969; be no way, 1258; goo your wey, 1622, 1561 f (: welaway); a forlonge way, 2064.

wife, see § 18.

wight[e] (A.S. gewiht, n., also gewihte, n. (Sweet, 896), L^a. wiht, L^b. weht, O. wehlte), 739 f (: hight n.); but the several authorities lack -e uniformly.

yate (A.S. gæt, W. S. geat, n., L. ȝæt, ȝet, ȝæte, ȝate, O. ȝate), acc., 1294.

yere (A.S. gēar, gār, gēr, n., L. ȝer, dat. ȝere, O. ȝer), to yere, 84 f (: here ȝ pl. pr. subj.). — euery yere, 302.

§ 15. The following nouns (chiefly Germanic), for which no corresponding Anglo-Saxon etymons can be cited, sometimes or always end in H. F. in -e:

(A.) Suspicious or uncertified Anglo-Saxon words, — mone (A.S. mān*, inferred from mānan), wenche (A.S. wencel*, pl. winclo). (B.) VII. Miscellaneous.

aire, 718, 779, 908 ; aire, 770, 775, 1041 ; air(e), 768 f (: faire pred. adj. sg.) ; ayre, 816 ; ayre, 811, 813, 817 ; ayr(e), 834 f (: faire pred. adj. sg.) ; eyre, 927 ; eyre, 765, 954. — Art, 1095 ; art(e), 335 f, 627 f, 1882 f (all : parte n.) ; arte, 1276. — Citezyn, 930 f. — Còrseynt, 117. — delyte, 1831 ; delyt(e), 309 f (: profite n.). — désert, 488. — dispite, 1716 ; dispite, 96, 1668. — ducat, 1348. — duke, 388. — effecte, 5. — engÿne, 528 (skill), 1934 (machine). — fool, 958. — frot, 2017. — ffugityse, 146. — gebet, 106. — guerdon, 619. — hostel(e), 1022 f (: wele adv.). — metal, 1422, 1446. — ost(e), 186 f (: goste n.). — part, 344 ; part(e), 366 f, 628 f, 1881 f (all : arte n.). — point, 917, 2018. — prison, 26. — profit(e), 310 f (: delyte n.). — renoun, 1736 ; 1558 f, 1709 f, 1817 f, renovn(e), 1850 f (: toyne n.) ; rēnouin, 1406. — rèsouin, 708 ; reason, 753 f ; reasoun, 761 f. — roundell, 791 ; roundel, 798. — ryban, 1318. — seson, 341 f. — skorne, 95. — soun, 824, 762 f, 832 f, 847 f, 1025 f, 1239 f, 1574 f, 1642 f, 1724 f, 1802 f ; sovne, 720, 773, 1805 ; sovn(e), 742 f (: douin adv.), 783 f (: multiplicaciovn e n.) ; sovne, 765, 770, 1033, 1950. — spirite, 190. — stryf(e), 1964 f (: lyfe n.). — toure, 536 ; tour(e), 1185 f (: bure n.). — tuell(e), 1649 f (: welle adv.). — vessel, 2130. — wiket, 477.

Note. — In none of the foregoing words is -e sounded, though some of them have this ending regularly (aire, arte, partie, etc.) and others show no other form (delyte, dispite, profite, etc.). Within the verse there is always apocope or elision, and when final the rhyme-word shows the -e illegitimate.

§ 35. The genitive singular of nouns, whether of Germanic or Romance origin, ends in H.F. for the most part in -es (variants -is, -ys), irrespective of original gender and declension.

Examples are :—

- I. domes, 1284. — Egles (F B lack the line), 507. — folkes, see § 44. — goddis, 1384, 1799 ; goddes, 1711, 1758 ; goddys, 1697. — houses, 1959. — kynges, 391. — loues, 645, 675,

1489.—mannes, 556.—sonnes, 941.—soules, 408.—wor[1]des 1867.—yates, 1302.

Note 1.—For alle skynnes (alles kynnes), cf. 1530; no skynnes (nones kynnes), 1794.

Note 2.—In the phrase lives body (1063), Skeat (Minor Poems, Glossary) regards lives as an adverb. Bright (M. L. N., 1889, col. 363) explains the phrase as “a living person’s body”, “a living man.” Kittredge’s interpretation (Language of Chaucer’s Troilus, § 35, I, n.) that lives means “of life” (cf. Byron’s “a thing of life”; “As thou art a man of life,” Little Musgrave and Lady Barnard, A, st. 10, Child, Ballads, II, 244) is, however, more satisfactory as explaining also the parallel expressions lynes creature, lynes man, found elsewhere in Chaucer. Thus lives body = body of life = living body = living man.

II. Fames, fames, 786, 852, 882, 1027, 1357, 1603, 1857.—Philosophres, 758.—tigres, 1459.—trumpes, 1642, 1646, 1685.

§ 36. One word makes a genitive without change of form:

Fader carte, 943; but C T here show -s.

Note.—In heuen kyngē (1084), heuen is probably in composition and not a real genitive (cf. A.S. heofon-cyning). Observe further heuens region (988), heuens sygnes (998). In both of these examples B has heuengys.—In the phrase wounde smerte (374), Skeat (Minor Poems, Glossary) sets smerte down as a noun, which would of course make wounde genitive. But smerte seems rather an adjective here, as also in the parallel expression sorwes smerte (316). (Cf. Kittredge, § 67, n.).

§ 37. Genitives of proper names.

I. Of names in -s but three examples have been noted in the genitive. Two of these have the genitive like the nominative, — Eaycedis chiron, 1206; Venus clerk, 1487; the third forms genitive in -es, — Martes metal, 1446.

II. Other genitives.

Arionis harp, 1005.—Athalantes Doughtres, 1007.—Auffrikes Region, 431.—Iupiter[e]s wife, 199.—Romes myghty werkes, 1504.

§ 38. The plural of nouns, of whatever origin, ends regularly in -es (-ys, -is). (Cf. Child, § 22; ten Brink, §§ 202, 206, 210, 213, 225).

§ 39. Exceptions to § 38. The following words ending in a consonant or an accented -e sometimes or always make their plural in -s (-z), -es, or -is. (Cf. Child, § 22; ten Brink, § 226).

I. Words in -nt.

Instrumentes, 696. — servantes, 625.

II. Words in -ion, -ioun.

Avisions, 40 f; avisions, 48. — clarions, 1597; Clarioun[s], 1594. — complexions, 21 f. — condiciouns, 1530 f. — dissymulacions, 688 f. — exorsisacions, 1263 f. — fumi(y)gacions, 1264 f. — impressions, 39 f. — reflexions, 22 f. — regiouns, 1529 f; Regions, 1970 f. — reparacions, 688 f. — transmutacions, 1969 f.

III. Words in -r.

colours, 859. — curroirs, 2128. — dossiers, 1940 f. — gestiours, 1198. — harpers, 1207, 1209. — Iugelours, 1259 f. — louiers, 37. — messangers, 2128 f. — murniures, 686. — panyers, 1939 f. — Pardoners, 2127 f. — pipers, 1234. — tregetours, 1260 f. — werres, 1961.

Note. — Of the foregoing examples B shows -ys in 686, 859, 1198, 1259, 1260, 1940, 2128. The vowel, however, is manifestly unsounded except in 859, where we may well read colourys for colours.

IV. Words in -en.

magiciens, 1260. — troyens, 156.

V. Miscellaneous words with consonantal ending.

corbetz (P T corbettes, C corbettis), 1304. — estates, 1970. — restes, *1962. — rovnynges (C Rownyng), 1960. — signals, 459 f. — spiritis (C T spiritis), 41. — welles, *1984. — Cf. also, hilles, tydynges, werkes, § 38, above.

VI. dytees (dissyl.), 622 f (: lyte is). In this verse F B have dytees bookys, but the rhyme-word shows clearly that bookys dytees is the proper order. — For knees, knes, see § 38, VI, a, above.

§ 40. Plurals of the n-declension which preserve the Anglo-Saxon ending (-an) in the form -en are :

been (A.S. pl. béon, Ps. bian), 1522.

eyen (A.S. pl. ēagan, L. æzen, ezen, P. Pl^a. ezen, eižen, P. Pl^b. eyghien, eyghes, P. Pl^c. eyen), 459 1379, 1408; yen, 1381, 2152 (B correctly nose and yen; F noyse an highen).

foon (A.S. pl. gefān) not found; but foos, 1668 f (: loos n.).

toon (A.S. pl. tān), 2028 f (: anoon adv.), — so C; T ton(e), F B lack the verse.

§ 41. Plurals in -en by imitation (Child, § 24; ten Brink, §§ 215, 217).

sustren (A.S. pl. sweoster, L. sustren, sostres, P.Plc. sustren, sustres, susteres), 1401.

For Doughtres, see § 38.

§ 42. Plurals with umlaut (Child, § 26; ten Brink, § 214).

fete (A.S. fēt), 568, 606, 1374, 1391; fet(e), 1603 f (: hete 3 sg. pt. ind.); and with final -e sounded fete, 1050 f (: strete n.).

men (A.S. menn), 330, 338, 525, 590, 609, 1326, 1761, etc., etc. wymmen (A.S. wifmenn, Pet. Chron. wimmen), 335, 1741, 1760; wommen, 1747.

§ 43. In the following words plurals occur identical in form with the singular.

folke (A.S. folc, n., pl. folc). No accurate distinction for singular and plural is possible for this word. In the following examples the verb is plural, — 645, 1060, 1338, 1544, 1608, 1661, 1775, 1832, 1854, 1862, 1899. In one case only is the verb singular, and it is interesting to note the passage to the plural in the succeeding verse :

That alle the folke that ys a lyve

Ne han the kunnynge to discryve, 2055-6.

Another certain singular is seen in a folke, 73. The limiting word indicates a singular in this folke, 1544, 1775, 1790, 1862, though in three of the four examples a plural verb follows. For other examples of folke in various constructions, cf. 42, 237, 638, 1358, 1849, 1968, 2035, 2138, etc. Final -e is regularly written in our MS., and is in one case sounded :

Of loues folke moo tydynge, 675.

Forms in -es, -ys, also occur (1154, 1426, 1828), but the vowel is uniformly silent.

In the genitive folkes (folkys) is the regular form, and the vowel is pronounced ; cf. 21, 636, 1137, 1322, 1720.

foote (A.S. fōt, m., pl. fēt), XX¹. foote thykke, 1335.

hors (A.S. hors, n., pl. hors), 944, 952.

hose (A.S. hosa, m., pl. hosan), 1840.

myle (A.S. mil, f., pl. mila, mile), sixty myle, 1979; but myles two, 116.

Swyne (A.S. swin, n., pl. swin), 1777.

thinge, thing (A.S. þing, n., pl. þing). The following examples are pretty certainly plural :

Other thinge to tellen yowe, 1418;

As wel of loue as other thyng(e), 1739 f (: rynge n.) ;
In allē thing ryght as it is, 1837.

But the regular plural is thinges ; see § 38. In the following verse -s should doubtless be supplied, though it is nowhere written :

Some newe thingē y not what, 1887.

wyse (A.S. wīse, f., pl. wīsan) must certainly be plural in the following verses :

But this may be in many wyse
Of which I wil the two deuyse, 771-2 ;
But for to prove in allē wyse, 1347.

§ 44. The genitive plural does not differ in form from the genitive singular.

folkes, see § 43. — goddys botiller, 592. — grekes oste, 186. — Iewes gestes, 1434. — partriches wynges, 1392. — rokes nestes, 1516. — sterres names, 997. — stormes bete, 1150.

§ 45. The dative plural (Anglo-Saxon -um) has not been observed in H.F.

ADJECTIVES.

§ 46. Adjectives ending in Anglo-Saxon in a short vowel (in the indefinite use) end in -e in H.F. (Cf. Child, § 29 ; ten Brink, § 230).

Most of these are either jo-stems or i-stems that have gone over entirely to the jo-declension : blythe, dere, grene, kynde, lythe, newe, shene, stille, swete, thikke, trewe. So also vnmerie. Here belongs vnsofte. For alone, cf. § 47.

blythe (A.S. bliðe, L.O. bliðe), be thou euer blythe, 1860 f (: swithe adv.).

dere (A.S. dēore, W.S. diere, dȳre, L. deore, dure, O. deore, dere). The only examples are in the definite use : my lady dere, 213 f (: chere n.) ; my dere hert[e], 326 ; lady dere, 1730 f (: manere n.) ; lady leefe and dere, 1827 f (: here inf.).

grene (A.S. grēne, grāne, L. grene), grene corne, 1224.

kynde (A.S. cynde, but usually gecynde), As kynde thinge of Fames is, 1292 ; she ys vnkynde, 284 f (: fynde inf.). Definite use : lys kynde place, 834, 836.

lythe (A.S. līðe, L. līðe, O. līpe), To make lythe of that was harde, 118. In this verse P omits of; CT omit of and insert erst after that. The reading of P seems more likely correct, and this would give us lythē.

newe (A.S. nēowe, niowe, W.S. nīewe, nīwe, L. neawe, neouwe, niwe, O. neowe, newe, P.Pl. newe, nywe), That euery yere wolde haue a newe, 302 f (: trewe adj.) ; Alle newe of gold another sonne, 506. The last line is seen only in C T.

shene (A.S. scēne, scȳne, scēone, L. sceone, scone, L^b. scene, O. shiene, scone). Occurs only in the vocative expression lady shene, 1536 f (: quene n.).

stille (A.S. stille, L. stille, O. stille, still), he stode as stille as stoon, 1605 ; That neuer mo stil hyt stent[e], *1926. In the last example we should probably read hyt stille; so Willert on the basis of it styl in T.

swete (A.S. swēte, swēte, O. swet), floode of helle vnswete, 72 f (: lete pr. n.). Definite use : my swete hert, 315.

thikke (A.S. pīcce, L. thicke), Or elles was the aire so thikke, 908 f (: prikke n.) ; a bible XXth. foote thykke, 1335.

trewe (A.S. trēowe, W.S. triewe, trȳwe, L. treowe, O. trowwe), is euery man thus trewe, 301 f (: a newe adj. as subs.).

vnumerie (A.S. myrige, merge). Only in the definite use : this god vnumerie, 74 f (: Cymerie pr. n.).

Vn-softe (A.S. sōfte adv., but also used as adj. instead of sēfte, sōfte (cf. Sievers, § 299, n. 1, and Sweet, 2081). L. softē, O. soffte). In the definite use only : the cruelle lyfe Vn-softe, 36 f (: ofte adj. post. pl.).

Note. — For the adj. free (A.S. frēo), cf. Auchyses the free, 422 f (: see inf.).

§ 47. In allone, -e goes back to the Anglo-Saxon weak ("definite") ending -a.

allone (A.S. eall āna, L. al ane, O. all ane), And eke allone (plur.) be hem selue, 2125 ; Deserte allone (sing.) || ryghte in the se, 416.

§ 48. Lyte, muche belong in a category by themselves. On their relations to A.S. līt, lītel, micel, mycel, see especially Bright, American Journal of Philology, IX, 219.

lyte (A.S. līt, adv., lītel, adj.) is said by ten Brink, § 231, to be "im Sing. wohl nur substantivisch gebraucht," but this is contradicted by three places in H.F. : thyn Abstinence ys lyte, 660 f (: heremyte n.), she was so lyte, 1369 f (: cubite n.), hyt nas not lyte, 1978 f (: write 1 sg. pr. ind.). Cf., also, Wol do than eſe al be hyt lyte, 2020 f (: merite n.), where the word may be held a substantive. For the substantive use of lyte, see 621, 1349 (F B litel, monosyl.), and perhaps 2020. For lyte, adv., see 778 f (smyte 3 pl. pr. ind.).

For lytel, see 1093, 1225; litel, 791; lilil, 1476; lytel, adv., 1134.

Note.—Lines 621-2 run as follows:

Al-though that in thy hede ful lytel is
To make songes dytees bookys.

All authorities show lytel (in varied spelling). CT, however, shift the position of dytees, bookys. Manifestly the proper reading is :

Al-though that in thy hede ful lyte is To make songes bookys dytees.

moche (A.S. micel, L.W.S. mycel), ful moche prees, 1358; a[s] moche goode, 1748; ful moche pyne, 147; moch compleynt, 924; moche ys thy myght, 971. — a mochil (monosyl.; P C T grete) myschaunce, 957; mochel wele, 1138; to mochil prees, 1359. For adverbial use, see ouer meche, 38; moche or lyte, 778; as moche as, 1749.

§ 49. Several adjectives which in Anglo-Saxon end in a consonant, sometimes or always take -e in H. F. (Cf. Child, § 30; ten Brink, § 231).

Some of the -e's in the following list are perhaps to be explained on grammatical grounds. Of petrified vocatives (cf. ten Brink, § 235, Anm., but also Zupitza, Deutsche Literatur-Zeitung, 1885, coll. 610, 613, and Freudenberg, pp. 37-40) there is one example : faire Venus. Observe the expressions longe tyme, longe while, olde tyme, in which, says Manly (Language of the Legend of Good Women, § 49), "one is tempted to see the remains of old dative constructions in which the final vowel has been preserved by the cadence of the phrase."

(: als adv.).

goode (A.S. gōd, L.O. god), Lady graunte vs good[e] fame, 1609 (but PCT graunte vs now) ; That we mowe han as good[e] fame, 1735 (but PCT as good a) ; Of good[e] folke and gunne crie, 1608 (but we must certainly take this as plural). — goode, 671, *872 ; goode, 604 ; good, 264, 1545, 1555, 1558, 1560, 1617, 1621, 1799, 1815, 1817, 1832, 1854.

grete (A.S. grēat, O. græt), I herde a gretē noysē with alle,

1973 ; grete, 553, 630, 1927, 2158 ; gret, 1372, 1424, *1425,

[woode] (A.S. wōd), no example. — as thou were wod(e), 202 f (: blode n.).

Note 1. — The following list shows monosyllabic adjectives ending in Anglo-Saxon in a consonant which take no -e in H. F. It will be noted that -e is quite commonly written, but it is mute always.

blak, 1647 ; blak(e), 1671 f (: take 2 sg. imp.). — blynd(e), 1570 f (: wynde n.) ; blende, 681. — broun(e), 139 f (: dovne adv.). — colde, 1163. — crips, 1386 f. — ded(e), 1876 f (: hede n.). — dombe, 656. — frerre, 647. — ful, 31, 1027, 1514, 1557, 1687, 1805,

Note 2. — For dissyllables in the indefinite use, see the following : besy \mathfrak{e} , 1472. — blissfull, 518. — blody, 1239. — bret ful, 2123. — burned, 1387. — drery, 179. — englyssh, 1470. — golden, 1723. — grenyssh, 1647. — hevy, 738, 1440, 1473. — knowen, 1736. — lewed, 1096 f; lewde (F B corrupt), 866. — liltyng, 1223. — lyghted, 769. — naked, 133. — rechcheles, 397. — sely, 513. — sory, 1790. — shrewde, 275, 1619. — stiryng, 478. — swartisshe (F B swari[e]), 1647. — tynned, 1482. — vncouthe, 1279. — wery, 115. — woful, 214. — wonder, 1082. — wonderful, 62. — worthy, 708, 1669. — yren, 1457. — ywel, 1786.

§ 50. The following adjectives of Germanic origin also show an -e in H.F.

bad [de] (A.S. bæddel ?), Though they goon in ful bad [de] lese, 1768. Such is the reading of Sk. and Wi., though T alone shows -e. We have a very good verse without -e.

wikke (cf. M.E. wicche, A.S. wicc(e)a 'wizard,' wicce 'witch'), that nas no thinge wikke, 1346 f (: thikke adj.). — wikkyd, 1620.

§ 51. Final unaccented -e in adjectives of Romance origin is preserved in H.F. (cf. Child, § 19; ten Brink, § 239).

I. digne (O.F. digne), 1426. — huge (O.F. ahuge), 1607. — Iuste (O.F. juste), 719. — large (O.F. large), 482, 1238, 1412, 1440 f (: charge n.); at hys large, 745 f (: charge n.). But, That hath a ful large whele to turne, 1450. In this verse, however, P C T have large by omitting a. Definite use, 926. — nyce (O.F. nice), 276 f (: vice n.); nyse, 920; definite use, nyce, 287. — queynt[e] (O.F. cointe). Of the three instances of the use of this adjective, final -e is written but once — T 228. The lines :

And queynt[e] maner of figures, 126 ;
Goynge in a queynt array, 228 ;
This queynt[e] lious about[e] went[e], 1925.

Final -e is not absolutely required, but it should doubtless be supplied.

II. Words in -ble.

agreeable, 1097 f. — double, 285. — favorable, 1479 f. — feble, 1132. — impossible, 702; impossib(il)le, 1334 f. — noble, 1416; definite use, 469, 1409, 1535.

Note. — French -é is of course preserved, — pryuee, 767; and prevy, 285.

§ 52. Some Romance adjectives take an -e in H.F. that have none in Old French.

clere (O.F. cler), And hyt [is] cleped clere laude, 1575; clere, 983; but cler(e), 1482 f (: pilere n.).

comune (O.F. comun), only in in comune, 1548 f (: fortune n.).

devyne (O.F. divin), vocative, devyne vertu, 1101.

femynyne (O.F. feminin), A femynyne creature, 1365.

fyne (O.F. fin). Final -e is regularly written, but it can hardly be sounded in any case: Arionis harp[e] fyn(e), 1005 f (delphyne pr. n.); yren fyn(e), 1431 f (: saturnyne post. adj. sg.); fyne, 1348.

pure (O.F. pur), of pure kynde, 824; definite use, 280 (T alone shows the line).

Note. — For examples of the singular number of Romance adjectives in the indefinite use, see the following:

certèyn(e), 502 f (: seyne pp.); certeyn, 159^v. — confuse, 1517. — conseruatif, 847. — cruelle, 1463. — curious(e), 29 f (: melancolyouse pred. adj. sg.). — deserte, 417. — devys, 917 f. — desperat, 2015. — dyuers, 1574; dyvers, 1976. — encombrouse, 862. — ententyf, 1120. — eryd, 485. — famousē, 1338. — imperiall, 1361 f. — mālicouse, 93. — mēlancōlyous(e), 30 f (: curiouse pred. adj. sg.). — naturell, 28; naturel, 1266 f. — noyouse, 574. — obedient, 2022 f. — overt(e), 718 f (: aperte adv.). — ovndye, 1386. — parfit, 44. — poetical, 1095. — saturnyn(e), 1432 f (: fyne post. adj. sg.). — special, 68. — synguler, 310. — vñfamouse, 1146.

§ 53. In the definite use (that is, when preceded by a possessive or demonstrative pronoun or by the definite article), monosyllabic adjectives take an inflectional -e. (Child, § 32; ten Brink, § 235).

I. Ordinals.

ther shal the thrid[de] be, 308; the thirdde companye, 1657; the thirdde [whele], 795; the thrid (+ vowel), 2070. — the ferthe companye, 1690. — the fifte route, 1703. — the sext[e] companye, 1727. — [the sevēnθ route, 1771]. — the tenthe day, 63, 111.

II. Monosyllabic Superlatives.

This lytel last[e] boke, 1093. — at the laste, 496 f; atte laste, 955 f, 1407 f, 1676 f; at the laste, 1128; at the last he, 555; atte last hyt, 1726; atte last (+ vowel), 1320, 2155.

Rhyme words. — caste pt. sg. ind. (496, 955, 1407), faste adv. (1676). — the next[e] laure, 1107; this next[e] folke, 1775.

III. Miscellaneous.

hys blake trumpe, 1637, 1865; his blake Clarioun, 1801. — hir blynde sone, 138; hys blynde neviwe, 617. — the derke pyne, 1512. — the (F lacks the) Duche tongue, 1234. — this lusty and riche place, 1356. — the swynt[e] catte, 1783. — the faire white mone, 2116. — hir yonge sone, 177.

IV. Some examples are here given of the definite form of words which occasionally show an -e in forms not obviously definite (cf. § 49).

his fals[e] forswerynge, 153. — hir fair[e] toun, 432. — this foule trumpes soun, 1642; his foule trumpes ende, 1646. — hir grete peyne, 312; the grete soun, 1025; the grete swogh, 1031; thy grete myght, 1092; The grete god of loues name, 1489; The grete poete, 1499; the gret[e] wikkednesse, 1813; the gret Omere, 1466; oure gret ese, 1753. — thys lovde fare, 1065.

V. ovne (A.S. āgen) is found only in the definite use, — thyn ovne boke, 712; thyn ovne sworen brother, 2101; Our ovne gentil lady, 1311.

§ 54. Occasionally, however, -e is dropped in the definite form of monosyllabic adjectives. (Child, § 36; ten Brink, § 236. your ryght honde, 322; my ryght honde, 1294. But this phrase was pretty certainly felt as a compound. These are the only instances observed in H.F. if we except the seventh route (1711), and in this latter case the proper form doubtless is sevenih[ē].

§ 55. In vocative phrases monosyllabic adjectives appear in the definite form when they precede the noun (as in A.S. lēofa Beowulf). (Child, § 34; ten Brink, § 235).

faire blissfull, 518. — my leue brother, 816. — O wikke Fame, 349.

In definite and vocative phrases in which the adjective follows the noun the usage in H.F. is varied.

(a) Without -e, the welkene longe and brod(e), 1601 f (: abode ȝ sg. pt. ind.); lady bright, 1693 f (: myght n.); (b) with

-e, lady leefe and dere, 1827 f (: here inf.) ; Josephus the olde, 1433 f (: tolde 3 sg. pt. ind.) ; the sonnes sonne the rede, 941 f (: lede inf.) ; the wounde smerte, 374 f (: herte n.).

§ 56. For adjectives of more than one syllable which do not stand at the end of the verse, the following rule as to -e in the definite and vocative constructions may be inferred from the usage of H.F.

Of adjectives of more than one syllable those alone take -e which have a primary or secondary accent on the ultima and are followed by a word accented on the first syllable.

The special cases may be stated as follows :

I. Dissyllabic paroxytone adjectives take no -e when the following word is accented on the first syllable. The verse will not bear such an arrangement of accents as oðooð.

Example : my crewel deth. (See others in § 57).

II. For the same reason dissyllabic oxytone adjectives take no -e when the following word is accented on the second syllable.

Example : hys myghty merite (§ 58).

III. Trisyllabic proparoxytone adjectives (ðooð) take -e unless the following word is accented on the second syllable.

Example : the Trðianysshë bloode (§ 59).

IV. But trisyllabic proparoxytone adjectives take no -e when the following word is accented on the second syllable. The verse will not bear such an arrangement of accents as ððooð.

For lack of a better example : the wðnder mðst was thys (§ 60).

V. For the same reason trisyllabic paroxytone adjectives take no -e when the following word is accented on the first syllable.

Examples under I.-IV. follow (§§ 57-60).

Note 1. — There is in H.F. no adjective of more than three syllables in the definite use. For a few in the indefinite form, see § 52, n.

Note 2. — For the definite use of the singular of adjectives of more than one syllable at the end of the verse, cf. the fayrest[e] ('T alone shows the line), 281 f (: lest[e] 3 sg. pt. subj.); Cupido the rechcheles, 668 f (: causeles adv.).

§ 57. I. Dissyllabic paroxytone adjectives take no -e in the definite and vocative uses when the following word is accented on the first syllable. (Cf. Child, § 35; ten Brink, § 246).

- (a) Cf. the plural superlative : the fynest stones, 1351.
- (b) thyn ovne sworen brother, 2101.
- (c) the hetienyssh melodye, 1395.
- (d) the holy Roode, 57. — his kyndely enclynynge, 734. — his kyndely place, 842. — the melky weye, 937. — the myghty Muse, 1399.
- (e) Romance and Latin adjectives :
the cruelle lyfe, 36. — my crewel deth, 323. — Our ovne gentil lady, 1311. — the Troian nacion, 207; the Troian Eneas, 217.

§ 58. II. Dissyllabic oxytone adjectives take no -e in the definite use when the following word is accented on the second syllable.

that latyn Poète, 1483. — hys myghty merite, 2019.

§ 59. III. Trisyllabic proparoxytone adjectives (ðoð) take -e in the definite and vocative uses, unless the following word is accented on the second syllable.

the Tròianysslë blode, 201. — his kÿndelych[ë] stede, 829.

§ 60. IV. But trisyllabic proparoxytone adjectives take no -e when the following word is accented on the second syllable. The verse will not bear such an arrangement of accents as ðoðooð.

the wðnder mðst was thyss, 2058.

§ 61. For the same reason trisyllabic paroxytone adjectives take no -e when the following word is accented on the first syllable. No example.

§ 62. The following are the only examples of the vocative of adjectives of more than one syllable :

crewel Junoo, 198. — devynë vertu, 1101. — O wðsful Dido, 318.

§ 63. The Hous of Fame shows a few well-defined traces of the French inflection of adjectives ; observe especially seynt, seynt[e] (Child, § 37; ten Brink, § 242).

seynt (masculine), Seynt Iùlyane, 1022; by sèynt Thomas, 1131; bè seynt Gÿle, 1183; seynt[e] (feminine), sèynt[e] Màry, 573; by sèynt[e] clàre, 1066. It is true that in these examples final -e is nowhere written, but the metre certainly requires an additional syllable before the feminine nouns in 573, 1066. The identity of use—in oaths every example—and the different requirements of metre seem clearly to establish French inflection in this word. Cf. further beau sir (643), bele Isawde (1796). And see the vocative expression devyne vertu (1101). Perhaps the -e of femynyne (1365) is due to an association of this sort. Observe also the list of French adjectives that have an inorganic -e (§ 52.).

For the French plural in -s (Child, § 43; ten Brink, § 243), see the goddys celestials, 460 f (: signals n.).

§ 64. Adjectives in the Comparative Degree usually end in H.F. in -er.

(a) fouler, 1638. — gretter, 1378. — wydder, 797.

(b) lenger (A.S. lengra), 1282; lengere, 1371.

(c) better (A.S. bet(e)ra, bettra), 1667. — bet, — I am no bet, 108.

more (A.S. māra), I. as adj. sing. indef. with nouns and pronouns, — hit semed moche more, 500 f (: sore inf.) ; more Iolytee, 682 ; No more semed than a prikke, 907 ; welmore than hit was, 1290 ; waxen . . . more . . . Than hyt was, 1495 ; more encres, 2074 ; more, *20, 2082. — The A.S. pī-construction, — the more parte, 336, 344, 1881. II. more, substantive use, — what wilt thou more, 883 f (: sore inf.) ; What shulde I more telle, 1513 ; gan . . . to eche (addere) . . . more, 2067.

mo, moo, plural (A.S. mā, neut. subs.), 121, 123, 124, 125, 674, 675, 677, 679, 685 (bis), 686 (bis), 687, 689, 693, 695, 697, 1254, 1949 f (: goo inf.). Willert's emendation in the following verse seems very reasonable: And eke moo holdynge[s] in honde(s), 692.

wors[e] (A.S. wiersa, wyrsa), wors[e] name, 1620.

§ 65. The Comparative and Superlative of adjectives are sometimes formed by means of more and most (Child, § 38, d; cf. ten Brink, § 245).

A single example of each of these formations appears in H.F. — more clere entendement, 983. — most conseruatif, 847.

§ 66. The Superlative of adjectives ends in -est.

leuest, — That hem were leuest, 87. — For first, see 145, 2097.

For superlative in the definite use, cf. §§ 53, 56, 57, 70.

§ 67. The Plural of monosyllabic adjectives ends in -e.

In the following list no definite or vocative forms are included without notice. Here also are included adjectives which sometimes or always have -e in the singular.

I. Adjectives standing immediately before the nouns modified :
faire (A.S. fæger ; for sing. cf. § 49), *1967.
goode (A.S. gōd ; for sing. cf. § 49). But we have no certain instance of sounded -e for this word. It occurs only in the expression good werkes, variously written by the several authorities. We may fairly assume that B T are correct in writing werke (sing.) in 1558 :

Of good werke yive vs good renoun.

In 1666 all (except T, which omits now) read :

That now your good werkes be wiste. In this case we should doubtless have good[e].

P C T are certainly correct in 1707 :

To hide (F B And hidden) her gode werkes eke. This is better suited both to sound and sense.

But there is no question of lack of final -e here :

Good werkes shal you noght availle, 1616. (Cf. § 68).

grete (A.S. grēat ; for sing. cf. § 49), 53, 900, 902, 1154, 1192.

lowde (A.S. hlūd ; for sing. cf. § 49), 1217.

newe (A.S. nēowe, nīowe ; for sing. cf. § 46), 654, 1886, 1887.

olde (A.S. eald, ald ; for sing. cf. § 49), 694, 1442. But in neither case is -e sounded. The verses :

Of olde forleten aqueyntances, 694 ;

As wel as other olde mervaylles, 1442.

But in the latter example P C T give a verse without olde :

As wel as of other meruayles. (Cf. § 68).

ryche (A.S. rīce), 123, 1322.

slowe (A.S. slāw), 1778.

smale (A.S. smæl), 1209.

II. Adjectives following the nouns they modify :

falwe (A.S. fealu, fealo), 1936.

ful (A.S. full. Sing. ful), (+ vowel), 1396, 1778.

glade (A.S. glæd), 1889 f (: made 3 sg. pt. ind.

grenē (A.S. grēne grcēne ; for sing. cf. § 49), 1937.

lyght[e] (A.S. leoht, liht, shortened from leoht. Sing. lyght), 743 f (: hight[e] n.). But -e is written in none of the authorities.

ofte (A.S. oft, adv.), 35 f (: Vn-soft adj. post. sg.).

olde (A.S. eald, ald ; for sing. cf. § 49), 1233.

rede (A.S. rēad. Sing. rede), 1936 f (: rede 1 sg. pr. ind.).

yonge (A.S. geong, etc.), 1233 f (: tonge n.).

III. fele (A.S. feola, fela, Ps. N. feolū, feolo ; really old neut. adj.), names fele, 1137 f (: wele n.) ; fele yen, 1381 ; fele vpstondyng eres, 1389 ; entrees As fele, 1946.

fewe (A.S. feawe, fēawa, Ps. fēa), they were wonder fewe, 1691 f (: in a rewe).

IV. The single example of a monosyllabic superlative in the plural appears without -e : Where thou maist most tydynges here, 2025.

V. Cardinal numerals (Child, § 39, c; ten Brink, § 247).

four (A.S. fēower, North. feuer, fēor), the bestes soure, 1383 f (: honoure inf.).

sevene (A.S. scōfon, W.S. seofan, seofen, sifon), Doughtres sevene, 1007 f ; sterres sevene, 1376 f ; other setiene, 1437 f.

Rhyme words. — heuene, (1007, 1376), neuene inf. (1437).

eighte (A.S. eahta, North æhta, ælto, æhtowe), hir eighte sustren, 1401.

twelue (A.S. twelf, North. twoelf), Many thousand tymes twelue, 1216 f, 2126 f (both : hem selue).

Note. — Other numerals, — on, oon (see § 79), two (116 f, 299 f, 689, 1144 f, 2093, 2104), twoo (772), three (204), XXii. (1335, 2119), sixty (1979), thousand (1216, 1949, 2119, 2126), thousande (75, 1495).

VI. Monosyllabic participles (see also § 68).

An how his shippes dreynte were, 233 ; Thilke that vnbrende were, 173 ; Been al the dores . . . vnshet[te], 1953 f (: let impede.).

VII. Romance adjectives :

noble (O.F. noble), noble gestes, 1737. — pore (O.F. povre), pore and ryche, 1532.

VIII. Adjectives which are both plural and definite of course have -e :

the Egles fethres bright[e] (F B lack the line), 507 f (: lyght inf.) ; the synest stones faire, 1351 f (: lapidaire n.) ; fals[e] theves (vocative), 1779 ;

And with hys grym[me] pawes stronge

Within hys sharpe nayles longe, 541-2 ;

the roches holowe, 1035 f (: swalowe inf.) ; hys shuldres hye, 1435 (: Iewerye n.) ; the olde gestes, 1515 ; my sorwes smert[e], 316 f (: hert n.) ; the dores wide, 1420 f (syde n.). — these straunge thynges, 1236.

§ 68. Monosyllabic perfect participles standing in the predicate regularly take no -e in the plural.

(i.) Before consonants and at the end of the verse : — loues . . . That ben (FB lack ben) betyde, 680 ; in the see were leftē behynde, 238 ; we ben wel quyt, 1614 f (: hyt pro.) ; your good werkes be wist(e), 1666 f (: leste ³ sg. pr. ind.) ; corovnes wroght ful of losynges, 1317. — (ii.) Before vowels and h : — his shippes . . . were . . . lost he nyste where, 234 ; youre Actes red and songe, 347 ; They wer set as thik, 1350.

But in three cases the -e appears : And how his shippes dreynte were, 233 ; Thilke that vnbrende were, 173 ; Been al the dores . . . vnshet[te], 1953 f (: let inf.). In the last example F alone shows the abbreviated forms vnshet, let.

§ 69. Monosyllabic adjectives standing in the predicate do not always take -e in the plural (Child, § 41 ; ten Brink, § 234). let your werkes be ded(e), 1701 f (: hede n.) ; ye (vos) be lyke the swynt[e] catte, 1783 ; be ye (vos) wood(e), 1713 f (: goode n. acc.) ; they were wod(e), 1809 f (: hode n.).

So occasionally when the plural adjective is used attributively.

Ten Brink's remark, "Im Plural des attributiv stehenden Adjektivs (gleichviel ob starker oder schwacher Flexion) tritt die Apocope [des flexivischen -e] kaum ein ; niemals, wenn der Adjektiv voransteht" (§ 236), is expressly contradicted by the following verse :

Of olde forleten aqueyntaunces, 694. So also :

As wel as other olde mervayles, 1442. In the latter verse, however, PCT show variant readings, omitting olde. To these we may add :

Good werkes shal you noght availle, 1616. But good werkes is a quasi-compound.

Note. — For plurals standing before vowels, cf. fresshi (1156), goode (1756), good (1780), ryche (1532), wise (1756). For other examples of plurals in the predicate, cf. glade (645 f), grene (1947), meke (1402 f), white (1937 f), wide (1952 f), wrothe (2103 f), y-lyche (1328 f).

§ 70. For adjectives of more than one syllable which do not stand at the end of the verse, the rule as to -e in the plural is the same as that already stated for the definite and vocative constructions (§ 56). Of such adjectives those alone take -e which have a primary or secondary accent on the ultima, and are followed by a word accented on the first syllable (cf. Child § 40 ; ten Brink, § 233).

(a) They wer a-cheked bothe two, 2093 ; arryved were, 1047 ;

somme corouned wer, 1316 ; boystes Crammed ful, 2129 ; shripes entremedled with, 2124 ; feyn reparacions, 688 ; for-leten aqueyntaunces, 694 ; greses growen in, 1351 ; dores opened wide, 1952 ; roten slowe techches, 1778 ; we be served, 337 ; longe y-served loues, 678 ; they Shul thus be shamed, 1634 ; wenched wondres, 2118.

- (b) we wretched wymmen, 335 ; wikked thewes, 1834.
- (c) vs . . . happy vinto, 1757 ; ye maisty Swyne, 1777 ; myghty werkes, 1504 ; his sleepy thousande sones, 75 ; sondry glees, 1252 ; sondry habitacles, 1194 ; sondry regions, 1529 ; sondry stages, 122 ; these sory creatures, 1632 ; thy werry neygh[e]bor[e]s, 649 ; seuene . . . worthy for to neuene, 1438 ; vs . . . worthy wise and gode, 1756.
- (d) These ben eyryssh bestes, 932 ; the ayerishh bestes, 965.
- (e) fele vpstondyng eres, 1389 ; wonder thynge, 674, 1893 ; ydel al oure lyfe y-be, 1733 ; ye ydel wretchedies, 1777.
- (f) certeyn ascendentes, 1268 ; dyvers transmutacions, 1969 ; famouse folkes names, 1137 ; famous were, 1249 ; the meravelouse signals, 459 ; So pàlpabè they shùlden be, 869 ; many subtile compassinges, 1188.

§ 71. The treatment of the plural of adjectives of more than one syllable at the end of the verse is illustrated by the following examples :

Be we cried or still y-rovned

Thus saugh I fals and sothe compovned, 2107-8 ;
we ben deceuyyd (F lacks the line), 340 f (: receyved þþ).

For the single instance of the French plural (Child, § 43),
cf. the goddys celestials, 460 f (: signals n.).

§ 72. Adjectives in A.S. -lic (-lic), O.N. -ligr, appear in H.F. with the ending -ly.

Ten Brink's theory (§ 270) that Chaucer was inclined to use -lich instead of -ly when the following word began with a vowel is not supported in H.F. There is but a single example of -lich, as follows :

Hath his kyndelych[e] stede, 829. Here lych[e] is certainly correct, and appears to be used solely to fill out the measure of the verse. The variants are, — B kyndly, T kyndlyche, PC lack the verse.
frendly chere, 1743 ; frendly manere, 278 ; euery kyndely thynge, 730 ; a kyndely stede, 731 ; hys kyndely enclynynge, 734 ; his kyndely place, 842.

euery (A.S. æfre + A.S. ælc) counts as a dissyllable (cf. ten Brink, § 262). The usual spelling is euery (1, 58, 65, 80, 99, 210, 254, etc., etc.); but also euerych (817), and eueryche (47, 975).

ovnie, see § 53, V.

men = one. The use of men as an indefinite pronoun (= Ger. man) is very common. The verb accompanying it seems sometimes singular, sometimes plural; and it is often difficult to distinguish between this indefinite men and men meaning people in general:—men clepeth, 73, 937; men may . . . rede, 385; men may casten, 1048; men seyn, 1147; men had writen, 1156; men myght hyt han herd, 1929; men may yet seen, 1948; etc. The shortened form me occurs once,—B 73. Observe also: As smale as man may se, 487.

oon, oo, o; noon, non, no (A.S. ān, nān). I. The full forms are found in all substantive constructions; so also in adjective constructions when the adjective follows its noun or stands by itself in the predicate. Thus,—That useth oon, 562; Hier stant ther non, 1117; oon or two, 1144; oon seyd, 1477; good fame non, 1560 f; that oon, 1855 f; oon that stooode, 1869; porter ther is noon, 1954; oon had herde, 2060. II. In the attributive position, oo, o are regular before consonants, oon occurring once; no is the invariable form before consonants, noon, non before vowels and h.—o thynge, 1068; o sentence, 1100; oo thing, 1650; but oon thyng, 2002; oo tydylnge, 2109.—no man, 32, 60, 680, 763; no maner creature, 489; no wonder, 913; no fors, 999, 1011, 1910; no richesse, 1423; no fame, 1709, 1716; no good, 1795; etc.—noon oppinion, 55; non other auttour, 314;

noght, naught, novght (A.S. nāwiht, etc.), of noght elles, 646 ; Sovne is noght but eyre, 765 ; quod y ryght naught, 994 f ; Good werkes shal yow noght availle, 1616 ; Ne of men sent, 1742 ; also That skorne hyt noght(e), 91 f ; goo noght, 1797 ; etc.

passinges, 1188 ; many thousand tymes twelue, 1216 ; many frenges, 1318 ; many other werkynge, 1944 ; subs., So many formed be nature, 2039.

§ 80. Al, singular.

- I. In its strictly adjective use al is commonest before the definite article and other more or less definite words. Thus, — before the, 167, 201, 207, 259, 375, 451, 486, 906, 969, 988, 1114, 1181, 1525, 1601, 1629, 1633, 1640, 1684, 1807, 1826, 1829, 1932, 2055 ; before this, 348, 468, 1065, 1113, 1161, 1266, 1285, 1551, 1935 ; before that, 933, 1064 ; before my, 527, 552, 1016, 1175, 1986, 2023, 2132 ; before thy, 200, 2017 ; before his, 174, 428, 463, 611 ; before hir (poss. sing.), 362 (bis), 462 ; before our, 1694, 1733 ; before your, 1700 ; before her (poss. plur.), 156. — There are two examples before the indefinite article, — al a Realme, 704 ; alle a Citee, 2080. — In one expression only does it seem to qualify the noun immediately, — al day (386, 737). For al dispence (260) read al the dispence for metrical reasons. — For alt his, cf. 705, 1341, etc.

Note. — In these uses al is the prevailing spelling ; but alle (monosyl.) is not infrequent (201, 988, 1161, 1175, 1181, etc.) and all occurs rarely (933, 969).

- II. As a substantive, alle (monosyl.) is the usual form ; but al occurs with some frequency, and there is an occasional all.

Examples: he that motier ys of all(e), 81 f (: shalle 3 sg. pr. ind.) ; send hem alle that may hem plesse, 90 ; hyt had al be so, 262 ; alle that euer he myght swere, 422 ;
 al that I mette, 523 ; in hir matere al devisest, 637 ; alle that y of spake, 978 ; alle ys wele, 1021 ; Alle was of ston, 1184 ;
 alle that longeth vnto fame, 1200 ; flore and roof and all(e), 1344 f (: walle n. nom.) ; I wil my selfe alle hyt drynke, 1880 ; Alle mote oute, 2139. Here may also be put such uses as, — when thy labour doon al ys (652), The halle was al ful (1514), alle to good (1799), Alle to longe (1506), alle a fire (1858). In many of these alle (al) has the force of an adverb ; in others the substantive or adjective force is stronger. Cf. 288, 296, 506, 1196, 1306, 1354, 1360, 1362 f (: imperiall adj.), 1458, 1649, 2105, etc. — ouer al,
 684. — here with alle, 567 ; her withal (+ cons.), 1606 ; ther with alle, 2031 ; but with alle, 1528 f, 2141 f (: both : halle n.) ; with-alle, 212 f (: on the walle). In the last example our MS. is alone in writing -e, and there is reasonable doubt whether it should be sounded. Wi., Sk. and He., however, all show it.

III. Allē, singular (cf. Child, § 30 ; Freudenberger, p. 35).
 The form allē in the singular is found or required in the following verses :

And how with al[le] pyne he went, 222 ;
 But vp I clombe with alle Payne, 1118 ;
 Disesperat of alle blys, 2015.

It is of course possible to accent the first syllable in each of these verses, but it makes very rough reading.

IV. Allē, plural. Whether adjective or substantive, allē is the proper form in the plural. The regular elision or omission of -e before vowels takes place, and -e is sometimes lacking where the metre requires it. Thus, — al and some, 46 ; Of alle that they dreme to yere, 84 ; And for to stonde al in grace, 85 ; al[le] kyndes, 204 ; al[le] these, 1008 ; herd y crien alle, 1313 f (: halle n.) ; weren alle, 1323 ; alle wyse, 1347 ; besoughten alle, 1706 f (: falie inf.) ; alle thing, 1837 ; al[le] tymes, 2121 ; they were alle, 2149. — In the following examples the adverbial force seems to predominate : Or he had al ywonne hys ryghtis, 456 ; Now wil we speke al of game, 886 ; And gunne choppren al aboute, 1824.

V. But alle is the plural form before demonstratives, etc.,
 when these words count as a syllable. Thus, — al youre Actes, 347 ; al the wordes, 376 ; alle the batayles, 454 ; alle the mervelouse signals, 459 ; al the pies, 703 ; al the spies, 704 ; al these three, 716 ; al the heuens sygnes, 998 ; al the men, 1167 ; alle the pepil, 1283 ; Al these armes, 1331 ; al the paleys walles, 1398 ; alle these clerkes, 1503 ; al the gestes, 1518 ; alle your foos, 1668 ; alle the worlde, 1721 ; alle her lestes, 1738 ; al the dores, 1952 ; alle the houses Angles, 1959 ; Alle the shieves, 2140.

Note.—The following examples seem plural and have been registered as such :

But for to prove in alle wyse, 1347 ;
That alle the worlde may of hyt here, 172 ;
In alle thing ryght as hit is, 1837.

Ten Brink (§ 255) leaves the impression that it is only before the article or other defining word that alle (pl.) is monosyllabic. Cf., however,—And al that vsed clarion, 1247. And see the following example, though alle here must certainly be adverbial : A fer fro hem alle be hem selue, 1215.

§ 81. The genitive plural of al (cf. Child, § 44 ; ten Brink, § 255) remains in H.F. in,—alther first, 1368 ; alderfirste, 1429 ; alther fastest, 2131. Observe in this connection al the wonder most, 2059.

lyke (A.S. gelice), 873; lyke, 1508.

Cf. also under longe, § 82; and observe streghte in the same section.

 see § 88, n. 1.

Note 2. — Yis (A.S. gise, gese) has lost its -e : cf. 706, 706 f, 864 f both : this pro.), 1000, etc.

§ 84. Adverbs in -ly, -lyche, -liche, lich (A.S. -lice, -lice, O.N. -liga).

The evidence of the Hous of Fame MSS. does not bear out ten Brink's theory (§ 270) that Chaucer was inclined to use -lich or liche before a vowel or h. There are all told but four verses in which these forms occur before vowels, as follows : ffullyche (B fullich, P fulleche, C fullych, T fullyche), 428 ; queynt[e]lich (B queintlich, C T queyntly), 1943 ; wonderlych (B wondyrly, P C T wonderly), 1173 ; wonderlych (B wonderlich, C T wonderly), 1922. On the other hand -ly occurs 12 times before vowels and 3 times before h; they are indicated in the following list by Gothic figures. In two verses an additional syllable is required before a consonant; in these -liche is manifestly the proper form : Embrowdede wonderliche riche (so P; rest wonderly), 1327 ; Hir tho so wondirlich[e] streght (so B; rest wonderly), 1373. In the latter verse P C T omit tho and show silf, self, selfe; but the line as given is pretty certainly correct.

Rhyme words. — I(y) (14, 51, 61, 130, 313, 581, 1045, 1127, 1319, 1392, 1403, 2137), by adv. (1203, 1498), why adv. (679), adverbs in -ly (the rest).

Note 1. — The adjective fayn (A.S. fæg(e)n is used with wolde with the force of an adverb, — I wolde fayn han hadde a fame, 1848.

Note 2. — For wonder used adverbially, cf. wonder sone, 114; wonder low, 1121; wonder hye, 1465; wonder wide, 1488; wonder fewe, 1691. — The adjective famous is similarly used in famous good, 1780.

Note 3. — For half used adverbially (cf. A.S. healfe, instr. with compar.), cf. half so high, 914.

Note 4. — The following adverbs, etc., of various formation, are for convenience put together here:

best, 624, 732, 1878; most, 847; almost (A.S. ealmæst, ælmæst), 1143; almoste, 650; first, 151, 606, 811, 850, 1340, 1898; alderfirste, 1429; alther first, 1368; erst, 1496, 2075; alther fastest, 2131; next, adv. and prep., 162, 174, 1486.

Note. — For now at erstē (512) we should probably read at the firstē; cf. P at þe first, C at the fyrist.

§ 88. The following particles, of various formation, appear sometimes or always with an -e (cf. Child, § 72).

In this list are thrown together, for convenience : (i.) particles in A.S. -an, -on, — aboute, above, beforn(e), before, behynde, bytweene, sithe (etc.), withyn, withouten, -e; cf. besyde; (ii.) particle in A.S. -a, — sone; (iii.) inne, oute, thanne, whan; (iv.) blyve, bothe; (v.) therfore, wherefore.

Note. — It will be observed from the following examples that in some of these words -e is not written; that in others it is not pronounced when written; but all of them show -e somewhere in Chaucer.

aboute (A.S. ymbūtan, onbūtan), adv. and prep., 481, 597 f, 811 f, 1196 f, 1824 f, 1868, 2006 f, 2120 f; about[e], 1807 f, 1925; aboute, 799, 1397, 1526; about (+ vowel), 1702.

Rhyme words. — doute n. (597, 811, 2006), route n. (1824, 2120), with oute adv. (1196), shout inf. (1807).

above (A.S. onbusan), adv. and prep., 1758 f (love n.), above, 805, 1360.

blyve (A.S. bi life), 1106 f (: descryve inf.), 1521 f (: hive n.).
bothe . . . and (O.N. bāðir, pro., cf. A.S. bā, bā-twā), — Bothe armes and the name, 1411; Both[e] castel and the toure, 1185; Til both[e] the eyre and erthe brende, 954; Both[e] of feire speche and chidynges, 1028; And with this worde both he and y, 1046; Both of wepinge and of game, 1199; but Both sothe sawes and leysinges, 676.

These seem the more likely readings for the several verses cited, though some of them may have other renderings, as will be seen. In 1185 BCT show Bothe, P inserts the; in 954 PCT omit the, CT writing Bothe.

beforn(e) (A.S. beforan), me beforne (A.S. me beforne), 60 f (: borne pp.).
before, 839, 1468.

behynde (A.S. behindan), adv. and prep., 238 f (: fynde inf.), 1214 f (: kynde n.), 2150; behynde, 977. In 2150 FB have behynde by reading begunne for gunne.

besyde (A.S. be sīdan), prep., 73, 440, 2105.

bytweene (A.S. betwēonan), prep., 2028 (F B P lack the line).
in (A.S. inne), prep., 30, 70, 80, 85, 86, 121, and passim.

therinne (A.S. pār-inne), 2003 f (: gynne inf.).

sone (A.S. sōna), 114 f, 1532 f, 1538 f, 1773 f, 2116 f; sone, 288. — efte-sones, 359.

Rhyme words. — done ger. inf. (114), mone luna (1532, 2116), bone n. (1538, 1773).

syth, sith, sithe, syn (A.S. siðām, siððan). I. In causal sense : syth, 218, 1855; syth that, 2016; sithe that, 2007; syn that, 835. II. Temporal : syth, 100, 1340 ; sith that 59, 1898.

 thanne, than, then (A.S. þonne), temporal and illative : thanne, 368 f (: Anne) ; than (then), before vowels and consonants, 482, 848, 985, 1019, 1228, 1907, 2050, etc.
 than = quam (A.S. þonne, þon), before vowels and consonants, 20, 977, 1289, 1290, 1371, 1638, etc.
 whan, when (A.S. hwonne), before vowels and consonants, 112, 266, 364, 372, 393, 468, 480, 673, 774, 777, 976, 1036, 1041, 1110, 1285, etc. ; when that, 232.
 therfore, therfor (A.S. þære + fore) : ther-fore, 276 ; therfore, 661 ; therfore, 289, 990, 1355, 2001 ; therfor (+ cons.), 1443. — wherfore, 268 ; where fore, 1835 ; wherfore, 629, 641 ; wherfor (+ cons.), 1846.
 withyn (A.S. wið-innan), prep. : before vowels, 120, 415 ; before h, 542.
 withouten, with-outen, wythouten (A.S. wið-ūtan), 484, 830, 855, 1187, 1448, 1464, 1764, 1913.
 withoute, 292, 690 ; with oute, 1195 f (: aboute adv.).

Note 1. — The -e which is twice written in doun, adoun (A.S. of-dūne, adūne ; adūnweard) is unsounded : doun, 741 f (: sovne n.), 947 f (: Scorpioniū pr. n.), 1026 f (: soun n.) ; dovne, 164 ; adon, 896 ; adoun, 2033 f (: congregacioun n.) ; adoun(e), 888 f (: tovne n.).

§ 89. To the list in § 88 may be appended : I. a-vey[e], betwexen, eke, ofte ; II. here, there, where, and their varieties, — particles in which the form of the termination has been influenced by various analogies (cf. Child, § 72, b).

a-vey[e] (A.S. onweg, āweg), Yif hyt a-vey[e] be ther froo, 838 ; but -e is nowhere written. — awey, 317 f (: wele-away), 736, 1149, 1150 ; a-way, 418 ; away, 1145.
betwexen (A.S. betwix, betweox, betwuxt), 715 ; betwex hem, 1476.
eke (A.S. ēac, cf. tō ēacan), 624 f (: seke ȝ pl. pr. ind.) ; 1401 f (: meke pred. adj. pl.) ; and except that it seems so well agreed on that eke is never dissyllabic within the verse, one would be inclined to sound -e in this line : And eke ther with sothe to telle, 1804. Cf. also : And eke moo holdyngē in hondes, 692. In the latter verse, however, Willert is almost certainly correct in writing holdynges in honde. — eke, 179, 212, 249, 444, 570, 846, 919, 1015, etc. ; eke, 193, 194, 343, 445, 752, 986, etc. ; ek(e), 1707 f (: leke n.).
ofte (A.S. oft), 610 ; ofte, 632 ; ofte, 385 ; oft + vowel, 1287.

here (A.S. hēr), 980 f (: were n.), 1014 f (: matere n.), 1012 f (: here inf.) ; herē, 324, 1015, 1883 ; her(e), 1444 f (: pilere n.) ; her (+ cons.), 1023 ; her (+ vowel), 1061 ; her on 1135 ; here with alle, 567. In one case it seems likely that we have herē within the verse : Be god I wolde hyt here write, 382.

there (A.S. þær, þēr), 1250 f (: were 3 pl. pt. ind.) ; there, 74, 1251 ; ther, 193, 198, 209, 212, 219, 237, 253, 308, 443, etc. ; ther as, 113, 844 ; ther aboute, 597 ; ther-fore, 276 ; therfore, 289, 990, 1355, 2001 ; ther fro, 736 f, 838 f, 895 f ; therof, 101, 1043, 1473 ; theron, 1998 ; ther out, 1927 ; ther to (too), 371 f, 718, 998 f, 1650 ; therwith, 582, 1804 ; ther with alle, 2031 ; ther (= where), 731, 2143, etc.

where (A.S. hwær, hwēr), 233 f (: were 3 pl. pt. ind.) ; where 711, 2025 ; where, 475, 479, 1584 ; wherē that, 1902 ; wher that, 129, 890, 1010 ; wherfore, 268 ; wherfore, 629, 641 ; wherfor, 1846 ; owghwhere, 478 ; nowhere, 1602.

Note. — The rhyme-words for here are different from those of there and where.

§ 90. Ever (A.S. æfre) is in H.F. uniformly dissyllabic before consonants. It does not occur before vowels, but in the two instances before weak h it is monosyllabic. The invariable spelling is euer.

I. Before consonants : 619, 634, 698, 1147, 1403, 1806, 1897, 1924, 2130.

II. Before he, hit : On alle that euer he myght[e] swere, 422 ; Than euer hit was and went anoon, 2083 ; but Allas that euēr had[de] routhe, 332.

Never (A.S. næfre) before consonants is with two exceptions dissyllabic ; in the single example before a vowel it is monosyllabic. The spelling is uniformly neuer.

I. Before consonants : 15, 59, 327, 471, 534, 566, 628, *984, 1296, 1366, 1380, 1740, 1926, 1956, 2004, 2037, 2100, 2148. Cf. also,— That neuēr herd I thing so hye, 1020. This is the only instance before h. — In the two following verses neuer is monosyllabic : And neuer the lesse hast set thy witte, 620 ; And bere hit neuer so hye on hight, 740.

II. Before vowel : In speche and neuer a dele of trouthe, 331. For euer and neuer in rhyme, see the following verses :

Of olde (l. golde) werke than I sawgh euer
ffor certeynly I nyste neuer, 127-8 ; Eke though I myght[e] dure euer
That I haue do rekeuer I neuer, 353-4.

Note. — Two verses in which neuer seems monosyllabic before a consonant are easily emended by comparison of MSS.: Hyt was nyste I neuer redely, 1127; Deserue why ne neuer ye roughte, 1781. In the first of these P C T properly omit neuer; and in the latter the same authorities lack ye.

§ 91. Particles ending in -es, -s (Child, § 73). This is sometimes an A.S. -es, sometimes a formation by analogy.

Here also are included particles which do not in H.F. show a form in -es, but do have it elsewhere in Chaucer. VERBS.

§ 92. Present Indicative¹. — The First Person Singular of the Present Indicative ends regularly in -e (Child, § 48; ten Brink, § 184).

I. In rhyme:

duelle, 2001 f (: telle r sg. pr. ind.) ; fynde, 750 f (: kynde n.) ; hote, 1719 f (: note n.) ; here, 1058 f (: lere inf.) ; pace, 1355 f (: place n.) ; preve, 826 f (: meve inf.) ; rede, 77 f (: spede inf.) ; 1493 f (: brede n.) ; 1935 f (: rede adj. post.
pl.) ; seye, 673 f (: leye inf.) ; stonde, 1878 f (: honde n.) ; telle, 844 f (: duelle inf.) ; 2002 f (: duelle r sg. pr. ind.) ;
 thinke, 15 f (: swinke inf.) ; trowe, 1335 f (: I-knowe inf.) ;
 varye, 808 f (: contrarye n.)

II. Before consonants.

gynne, 1455 ; graunte, 1665, 1763 ; graunte yow, 1700 ; stonde here (hit), 1885 ; trowe, 61, 1930.

III. This -e is regularly elided before a vowel :

a-legge, 314 ; leve, 1012 ; mene, 1895 ; pray I, 97 ; prey I, 78 ;
 pray alaway, 466 ; sey I, 286, 742 ; stynte, 1417.

IV. Elision before h :

graunte hyt, 1838 ; preve hyt, 787.

Note 1. — There is no certain case of apocope of -e. The most likely example is : But thus I sey yow trewly, 1542. The verse as it stands lacks a syllable, which may be had by writing either sey[e] or trew[e]ly; the latter is perhaps better. One other verse is easily entended by comparison of MSS. : I werne yow hit quod she anon, 1559. Here PC omit hit, T shifting the position of hit and yow.

Note 2. — For the monosyllabic see (se), cf. see I, 334; see, 1107 f (: tree n.) ; se, 1910 f (: me pro.).

§ 93. The Second Person Singular of the Present Indicative ends in -est (-ist), -st (-est) (Child, § 49; ten Brink, §§ 184, 186, 259).

I. -est (-ist) :

demest, 596 ; desirest, 1911 ; devisest, 637 f (: dispisest) ;
 dispisest, 638 f (: devisest) ; enditest, 634 f (: writest) ;

¹ It is hardly safe to claim absolute accuracy for the following sections in which a distinction between indicative and subjunctive is aimed at; the errors, however, can certainly not be numerous enough to affect the general results.

fairest, 87 ; herist, 651 ; knowest, 890 ; lyvest, 659 ; peynest, 627 ; redest, 1001 ; sittest, 657 ; suffrest, 2013 ; werest, 1840 ; writest, 633 f (: enditest).

II. -st -est

seyst (vides), 911 ; seyst (dicis), 1839 ; herestow, 1031, 1862.

Note. — The ending -es occurs once: That thou now hider bringes, 1908 f (: tydylnges).

§ 94. The Third Person Singular of the Present Indicative ends usually in -eth (-ith), -th (-eth) (Child, § 50; ten Brink, §§ 184, 186).

I. -eth (-ith):

beloweth, 1803 ; causethe, 3, 815 ; considereth, 642 ; countrefeteth, 1213 ; duelleth, 70, 711 f (: tellith) ; falleth, 741 ; fareth, 271 f (: glareth) ; folwèth, 5 ; glareth, 272 f (: fareth) ; knoweth, 13, 290 ; longeth, 244, 1200 ; maketh, 1065, 1175 ; moveth, 735, 811, 837, 851 ; moueth, 841 ; rumbleth, 1026 ; seketh, 756 ; seweth, 840 ; sheweth, 830 ; slepeth, 74 ; stereth, 817 f (: vpbereth) ; sufficeth, 1762, 1876 ; telleth, 406 ; tellith, 712 f (: duelleth) ; vpbereth, 818 f (: stereth) ; vseth, 562 ; warneth, 46 ; wexeth, 1076 ; whirleth, 2006 ; willeth, 447.

II. -th, -eth.

(a) Verbs ending in a vowel:
astonyeth (slur), 1174 ; seyth, 307, 429, 807. These are the only verbs with vowel-ending in the third person.

(b) Verbs ending in a consonant:
avayleth, 363 ; breketh, 780 ; cometh, 71, 648, 721, 773, 882, 1061, 1071 ; speketh, 1244 ; thenketh (videtur), 871. But s[p]eketh, 931 ; thinketh (videtur), 684 ; to-breketh, 779 f (: men speketh).

Note. — There is a single example of -is: In certeyne [as] the booke [vs] tellis, 426 f (: ellis) ; as and vs supplied from P.C.T.

§ 95. The following examples of the Third Person Singular in -t from verbs in -t, -d occur in H.F. (Child, § 51; ten Brink, § 186):

grynt, 1798 ; halt, 630 ; list, 1577 ; lyst, 640, 844, 1564, 1821, 1982 ; lest(e), 1665 f (: wiste pp.) ; stant, 713, 719, 1117 ; stert, 681 ; writ, 973, 1385. — But nedeth, 575, 1072, 1299.

§ 96. The Plural of the Present Indicative ends regularly in -en or -e ; but forms in -eth occur (cf. Child, § 52; ten Brink, § 186). Before consonants -en is commoner than -e ; the reverse is true in rhyme.

- I. -en before consonants : (a) First Person, besechen, 1554 ;
 (b) Second Person, knowen ye, 1257 ; ye (tu) knowēn
 (knōwen ?), 327 ; (c) Third Person, callen, 609 ; crien, 1322 ; kepen, 1226 ; maken, 1239 ; semen, 1402 ; shynen, 1376 ; tellen, 1198 ; wilnen, 1312.
- II. -en in rhyme : Third Person, dreden, 38 f (: leden 3 pl.
pr. ind.) ; duellen, 1060 f (: tellen inf.) ; leden, 37 f (: dreden 3 pl. pr. ind.).
- III. -en before vowels : Third Person, hopen, 38 ; maken, 1939.
- IV. en before h : (a) First Person, kepen haue, 1695 ; (b)
Third Person, kallen hyt, 939 ; shynen here (hic), 1015.
- V. -en, -n : Third Person, clepen a, 1326 ; reden in, 1352 ; seyn, 1147 ; sayn(e), 23 f (: brayne n.). But seyn is the only genuine case of syncope ; both depen and reden show variants in elided -e.
- VI. -e before consonants : (a) Second Person, wene ye, 1714 ;
 (b) Third Person, calle founder, 535.
- VII. -ē before vowel : Third Person, That duellē almoste at thy dors, 650. [Var. B dwell, P dwelleth, C T dwellen].
- VIII. -e in rhyme : (a) Second Person, duelle, 521 f (: welle n.) ; (b) Third Person, fynde, 44 f (: kynde n.) ; rede, 590 f (: Ganymede) ; seke, 626 f (: eke) ; smyte 777 f
 (: lyte adv.) ; stonde, 1010 f (: honde n.) ; thwite, 1938 f (: white pred. adj. pl.).
- IX. -e elided before vowels : (a) Second Person, gete, 1560 ;
 (b) Third Person, duelle, 1531 ; falle, 1192 ; seke, 744 ;
 trete, 54 ; vse, 1263 ; write, 1013.

Note.—The verb pray shows no ending, but -e or -en is to be supplied : That nathenes yet prey[e] we, 1734 ; Where fore we pray[en] yow a rowe, 1835. In the first verse P shows preyen, and in the second reads on a rowe.

§ 97. The following examples of the Plural of the Present Indicative in -eth occur :

causeth, 35, 40 ; men clepeth, 73 ; seyth the peple, 360 ; men speketh, 780 f (: to-breketh 3 sg. pr. ind.). But causeth occurs in a confused passage and may be intended as singular.

§ 98. The Plural in -es does not occur in H.F.

§ 99. The following Indicative Preterites (first and third persons) of Anglo-Saxon verbs of the First Weak Conjugation occur in H.F. (cf. Child, § 53 ; ten Brink, §§ 162, 165, 168-170.

(a) Stems originally short, — leyde, sette, shetic; (b) stems originally long, — agylte, bilt, demed, dreynt[e], felte, ferde, hente, herde, lefte, mette (A.S. mætte), mette (A.S. mætte), reight[e], semmed, stent[e], wente, werned; (c) irregular verbs, — broghte, duelled, soughte, streight[e], thoughte (A.S. böhte), thoughte (A.S. bühte), tolde.

Of these demed, semmed, werned are unsyncopated preterites formed on the analogy of the Second Weak Conjugation, and replacing the proper Anglo-Saxon forms dēmde, sēmde, wyrnde. Duelled corresponds to A.S. dwelede (-ode), inf. dwelian (Sievers, § 407, Anim. 1).

In bilt, felte, lefte, wente, A.S. -de is replaced by -te (cf. ten Brink, § 170 ε, ζ). Brennen (O.N. brenna, A.S. bærnan) has only brende; see § 100 (cf. ten Brink, § 179, ζ).

Syncopated preterites, after the analogy of the first weak conjugation, are shown by several verbs strong in Anglo-Saxon: brayde, fled, highte, lost (also les), slept (also slep(e)); see § 103. So also dyede (O.N. deyja, pret. dō). For smelde, see § 100.

Several preterites of weak verbs belonging properly to the second conjugation show syncopated forms after the analogy of the first; see § 101.

In the only two examples before a consonant -e is lacking ; we should probably read the verses thus : Went this foule trumpe soun, 1642 ; That thrugh the worlde went[è] the soun, 1724.

Rhyme words. — stent 3 sg. pt. ind. (222, 1925, 2032), stynt 3 sg. pt. ind. (1684), hente 3 sg. pt. ind. (544), entent n. (2131).

in the latter verse alle may mean omnia; in that event it would be possible to read: Of alle that they dremē to yere.

§ 113. The Preterite Subjunctive Singular of Strong Verbs ends in -e; but in H.F. the examples are few and inconclusive.

The Preterite Subjunctive Singular of Weak Verbs shows in the first and third persons the endings -de, -te, -ed (cf. Child, § 56; ten Brink, § 195). The Second Person Singular of the Subjunctive of Weak Preterites has not been observed.

I. Strong Verbs: (a) First Person, — though I knew her places, 1014; as I were a larke, 546; (b) Third Person, — prayed her . . . that she . . . yeve hem, 1817; were, 251, 702, 1132, 1333, 1354, 1518, 1819, 1999. — Exceptions: (a) Second Person, — as thou were woode, 202; (b) Third Person, — or he toke kepe, 437; That hem were leuest, 87; Were the tydinge sothe or fals, 2072; nor hyt were to louge, 381; as he were woode, 1508.

II. Weak Verbs: (a) First Person, — yf I wolde her names telle, 1505; (b) Third Person, — or he lette, 2070 f (: mette 3 sg. pt. ind.); Tyl he haue caught that what him lest[e], 282 f (: the fayrest), — but T alone shows the verse; so she saved hym llys life, 423. — Haue: (a) First Person, — As ferforth as I had[de] wytte, 328; (b) Third Person, — Though that Fame had al the pies, 703; had he lawghed had he loured, 409; had hyt stonde, 1928; Yf Adriane ne had y-be, 411. — Exceptions: prayed her . . . that she nolde doon, 1816; As she had been, 229.

§ 114. The Plural of the Preterite Subjunctive of both Strong and Weak Verbs ends, like that of the Present, in -e, en (cf. Child, § 56; ten Brink, § 195).

As men a potful of bawme helde, 1686 f (: smelde 3 sg. pt. ind.); though they were of, 1850 (ind.?); seyden they yeven nocht a leke, 1708. — Exceptions: as men had writhen hem, 1156; As we had wonne hyt, 1751; men wend that, 1796; as they were wode, 1809.

§ 115. The Imperative Second Person Singular of Weak Verbs follows the Anglo-Saxon inflections in the First and Second Conjugations, — that is, verbs of the Second Conjugation have -e (A.S. -a), and verbs of the First Conjugation either end in -e (A.S. -e) or have no ending, according as the stem-syllable was originally short or long. But in the two examples of verbs of the Third Conjugation -e is unsounded or dropped. (Cf. Child, § 58; ten Brink, § 189).

I. First Conjugation : (a) short stems :

telle (A.S. tele), telle me, 853 ; tellē me, 2049 ; telle vs, 1563.
But tellē me, 870, 1056.

II. First Conjugation : (b) long stems :

hide (A.S. hȳd), hide our, 1696.

kythē (A.S. cȳð), Now kythē thyn engyne and [thy] myght, 528. Such is pretty certainly the proper reading for this verse, thy being supplied after P.T. It seems a little strange that Wi., Sk. and He. disregard this variant, showing kythē.
 ringē (A.S. hrīng), ringē this, 1720.

spedē (A.S. spēd), spedē the, 1595.

Note. — For dredē, imperative of dreden (weak in Chaucer), cf.
dredē the, 1043.

III. Second Conjugation :

herkene, herke (A.S. heorcna, hercna), herkene wel, 725 ;
 herke be, 613 ; herke wel, 1030 ; herke what, 764.

hye (A.S. higa), 1592 f (: crie inf.).

looke (A.S. lōca), looke that, 893 ; loke thou, 927.

make (A.S. maca), make hyt, 1097.

IV. Third Conjugation :

haue (A.S. hafa), haue pitee, 316.

sey (A.S. saga), sey these, 1793.

V. Two Old Norse verbs :

cast (O.N. kasta), cast vp, 935.

trust[e] (O.N. treyst), trust[e] wel, 672.

§ 116. The Imperative Second Person Singular of Verbs of Romance origin ends in H.F. in -e (cf. ten Brink, § 189).

graunt he, 102 ; graunte vs, 1536, 1609, 1773 ; gye, 1093 f (: maistrye n.) ; save and, 494 ; turne vpward, 925.

§ 117. The Imperative Second Person Singular of Strong Verbs has in H.F., as in Anglo-Saxon¹, no -e (Child, § 58 b ; ten Brink, § 189).

In the following list -e is oftener written than otherwise, but it is regularly unsounded.

awak(e), 556 f (: spake 3 sg. pt. ind.) ; awake to, 560. — beholde this, 926. — blow her, 1626 ; blowē this, 1790 ; blowē thy, 1718 ; blowē as, 1766 ; blowē yt, 1673. — come forth, 1912. — goo blowē, 1790 ; goo noght, 317. — farewell, 1085. — lat a, 1037 ; lat be, 992 ; lat goo, 741 ; lat me, 2097 ; lat oure, 1610 ; lat vs, 1745 ; let me, 2097 ; let our, 1556 ; let vs, 1755 ; leet men, 1761 ; late now, 1670. — ryse vp, 1592. — see quod, 888 ; se her, 1023 ; se yonder, 936. — slee me, 317. — stonde no, 1912. — vnderstood now, 1073. — yive vs, 1558. — And also tak(e), 1673 f (: blake adj. sg. pred.) ; take forth, 1624 ; take thy, 1594 ; take thyn, 1052 ; take hede, 787 ; take out, 1765 ; take yt, 822. — Short -jostem, — bid (A.S. bide), bid hym, 808 ; bid him, 1573, 1578. But in one verb -e is certainly pronounced : And seyde walke forth a pace, 1051.

¹ Short stems in -jo excepted ; cf. Sievers, § 372.

Note 1. — In these two examples let is doubtless to be regarded as imperative plural : let see (= videamus), 580 ; let vs speke (= dicamus), 293.

Note 2. — Observe the ellipsis of the verb in vp the hede, 1021.

§ 118. The Imperative Second Person Plural of Verbs, strong or weak, native or naturalized, ends in H.F. in -eth, -eth ; but forms in -e and forms with no inflectional ending also occur (cf. Child, § 59 ; ten Brink, § 189).

I. Forms in -eth, -eth : entreth in, 1109 ; haueth of, 325 ; helpeth || that, 521 ; herkeneth as, 109 ; herkeneth euery, 509 ; listeneth of (P listeth, T lysteth ; and so perhaps 3 pl. pr. ind.), 511 ; trusteth wele, 66.

II. Form in -e : herke how, 1549.

III. Forms without ending : goo your, 1561, 1622 ; let your, 1701 ; syker be ye, 1978.

§ 119. The infinitive ends in H.F. in -en, -en, e, -e (cf. Child, § 60 ; ten Brink, § 190). In to done, to goone, to scyne, the -ne of the A.S. gerund or dative-infinitive is preserved.

The following summary is of some interest as showing the relative frequency of -en, -en, -e, -e, in the several positions : (a) before consonants, — en (26), -e (43), -e (4) ; (b) in rhyme, — en (3), -e (196) ; (c) before vowels, — en (20), -en (5), -ë (9), -e (54) ; (d) before h, — en (4), -ë (2), -e (20). From this it will be seen that -e is much the commoner ending of the infinitive everywhere.

I. -en before consonants : abyden the, 1086 ; aprochen blyve, 1521 ; beten the, 1044 ; casten no, 1170 ; casten with, 1048 ; crien lowde, 2096 ; ensuren the, 2098 ; envien loo, 1231 ; heren that, 1024 ; heren wel, 879 ; leten wel, 1950 ; lokken thoo, 896 ; menen this, 1104 ; pipen bet, 1232 ; powren wonder, 1121 ; proven the, 808 ; romen til, 1293 ; tellen can, 1324 ; tellen certeyn, 1731 ; tellen the, 726, 1884 ; tellen yow, 1343 ; tellen yowe, 1418 ; trowen this, 699 ; trumpun Messenius, 1243 ; wexen saugh, 1391.

III. -en before vowels : bilden on, 1133 ; beholden eke, 1755 ; blasen out, 1802 ; carien a, 1280 ; choppen al, 1824 ; crien alle, 1313 ; excusen Eneas, 427 ; hangen ought, 1782 ; loken vnder, 964 ; lyen euerychon, 1717 ; passen eueryche, 975 ; puffen and, 1866 ; serven in, 1548 ; shinden al, 1016 ; semen euery, 1291 ; stonden in, 1238 ; tellen also, 1388 ; tellen anon, 2062 ; wexen in, 979 ; wondren in, 583.

IV. -en before h : helpen hem, 1439 ; stonden hym, 1214 ; trump'en [hit], 1864 ; wexen hit, 1652.

V. -en, syncope : mounten || and, 953 ; maken || in, 1268 ; pleyen || and, 2133 ; pleyen upon, 1201 ; temen vs, 1744.

Note. — The MSS. are at one only in 2133 ; in the other verses (except 1744) there are variants in -e, which of course elides before the vowels that follow ; and in 1201, 1744 there is authority for reading on instead of upon, whence we should have pleyen, temen.

VI. -e before consonants : beholde more, 532 ; bere tho, 1597 ; clymbe greued, 1119 ; come hyder, 1891 ; come to, 735 ; compleyne thanne, 368 ; confirme my, 761 ; deserue why, 1781 ; fele wel, 826 ; graunte yowe, 1822 ; helpe to, 1102 ; here many, 1915 ; here where, 711 ; holde yow, 324 ; kenne myght, 498 ; kepe that, 215 ; lerne loue, 1235 ; lerne saugh, 1250 ; loke nowe, 580 ; make folke, 42 ; make lenger, 1282 ; make lythe, 118 ; make songes, 622 ; make yow, 1300, 1454 ; passe with, 2011 ; peyne me, 246 ; rede many, 448 ; shewe yow, 1102 ; speke more, 245 ; teche the, 2024 ; telle first, 850 ; telle [the], 1792 ; telle the, 249, 894 ; telle where, 479 ; telle yow, 150, 547 ; trumpe there, 1250 ; vnderstonde kan, 510 ; vnderstonde my, 710 ; warne the, 1068 ; wynne sone, 2115.

Note. — The following infinitives require an additional syllable, for all of which there are variants in -e, -en : comfort tho (235), pley Iugelours (1259), shew craft (1000), tel can (334, 450), tel fonde (1427), tel she (242).

VII. -e in rhyme: abrayde, 559 f (: seyde 3 sg. pl. ind.) ; appere, 190 f (: here inf.) ; agryse, 210 f (: aryse inf.) ; aryse, 209 f (: agryse inf.) ; bede, 32 f (: drede n.) ; bete, 570 f (: hete n.) ; come, 45 f (: some þro.) ; drenchie, 205 f (: wenchie n.) ; 16, 64, 78, 87, 90, 102, 164, 180, 189, 195, 205, 220, 231, 237, 239, 246, 251, 252, 279, 297, 311, 381, 382, 385, 392, 413, 422, 434, 446, 447, 474, 491, 499, 508, 511, 512, 520, etc., etc., etc. — Final -e is to be supplied in the follow-

LIFE.

I WAS born in Charlotte County, Virginia, December 12, 1867, and had my early academic training in the private and public schools of my native township. After one year at the then Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, I enlisted at the Virginia Military Institute in 1885 and four years later was graduated with the B. S. degree. The year following my graduation I was assistant professor of Modern Languages and Tactics in my alma mater, and the next three years was commandant of cadets in Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Missouri. In 1893 I entered the University of Virginia, where for two years I pursued graduate courses in Latin and English Language under Professors Peters and Garnett. The session of 1895-6 found me again in service at the Virginia Military Institute, and the two succeeding years were passed at St. Albans School, Radford, Virginia, as master of Latin and French. I returned to the University of Virginia the current session for further prosecution of my graduate studies, and hold, by award of the Visitors of the University, the John Y. Mason fellowship.

Grateful acknowledgment for their instruction and kindly interest is made the several professors who have directed my studies. To Professor Harrison, under whom the present paper has been brought to completion, my special thanks are due, as well for encouragement and guidance as for the loan of many serviceable books from his private library.
